Mayors' Council Receives OSHA Training

Hagåtña, Guam – Employees of the Mayors' Council of Guam received certificates of completion after attending a course administered by the Guam Department of Labor Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA). This training is first in a series of staff development and training offered to employees for their safety and enrichment.

The OSHA course provided an introduction to the organization, explained the basics of Personal Protective Equipment and Hazard Communication. Community maintenance workers and office personnel participated in these sessions in an effort to comply with official safety rules and regulations.

“Providing the necessary resources and personal training for our employees will create a knowledgeable and fortified work force in our villages to better serve our people.” states Council President, Piti Mayor Jesse Alig.

Other planned trainings and sessions include Tree Trimming and Pruning and Traffic Direction and Control.
